RESERVATIONS AND REGISTRATIONS FOR WORKSHOPS AND INSTITUTES

Reservations are accepted for workshops and institutes on a first come, first served basis. A reservation is NOT a workshop registration. Each workshop has a reservation deadline. Openings in workshops are most likely to be available to persons reserving a spot prior to the reservation deadline date. Reservations received after the deadline date will be processed only if space is available and on a first come, first served basis. Full tuition may not be sent with a reservation form. Reservations received with tuition will be returned. Full tuition payments are required when registration is submitted.

NOTE: Most workshops and institutes have limited enrollments. Early reservations are recommended.

Reservation Fees - A $10.00 non-refundable, non-transferable reservation fee (for each workshop requested) must accompany the Reservation Form (see page 19 of this brochure). The fee is applicable to tuition for the selected program only.

Registration - Registration materials will be mailed beginning April 24. The deadline date for registration will be noted in your packet of registration materials. If completed registration forms and 100% of tuition are not received by the deadline date, the reservation will be cancelled.

In-person registration will be accepted for workshops on a space available basis up to and including the day the workshop begins. All mail and in-person registrations must be approved through the Summer Sessions Office before registrations are processed in the appropriate registration office.

First time graduate students must fulfill acceptance requirements (see page 15).

GRADING POLICY

All workshops for two credit hours or less are graded on a PASS/FAIL basis unless otherwise indicated. Letter grades may be available by special arrangement with the instructor.

WORKSHOP LIMITS

Only two semester hours maximum of graduate credit or undergraduate credit may be obtained in a one-week workshop unless the workshop is listed as three credit hours in the bulletin. Credit hours for any workshop may not be increased by doing additional work.

No more than six semester hours of workshop and/or institutes may be applied toward a graduate degree program.

All workshop/institutes listed in this brochure may be taken for graduate credit.

Courses listed 200-499 may be taken for graduate credit by graduate students other than MBA students if applicable to their programs. Students are required to complete extra assignments to receive graduate credit. Courses listed 500 and above are graduate credit only and are not open to undergraduate students.

8:30a.m. to 4:30p.m. (M,T,W,Th)
8:30a.m. to 7:30p.m. (F)
Director: Dr. Daniel W. Geeding

This course is designed to integrate the philosophy, theories, and techniques of three powerful Humanistic Systems - Transactional Analysis, Gestalt Therapy, and Neurolinguistic Programming® with the process of leadership. Leadership is one of the important functions of management, administration, education, and other areas involved in human resource development.

This integration is achieved through a balanced, didactic-experiential approach, with the focus on attaining behavioral as well as intellectual competencies. The behavioral competencies are identified for T.A., Gestalt, and N.L.P.® and participants will be evaluated on their ability to demonstrate attainment of those goals.

After short theory - demonstration segments, participants will practice utilizing each component. The basic components will be combined into higher level systems that will become part of each participant's behavioral repertoire.

Additional outside reading and written assignments are required.

May 22 to 26 & May 30 to June 2

EN/ED 409-WS

Two Credit Hours

ALT 323

6:00 to 9:30 p.m.

Director: Patricia Cramer

The contemporary and past women's movements have generated an unprecedented volume and diversity of women's writings. This course is designed to introduce students to this literary and historical tradition through readings, class discussion, and film. Emphasis will be on texts which self-consciously address the subject of women, especially women's individual and collective struggles for equality and self-fulfillment, and we will aim to reflect the rich diversity of perspectives and life experiences which have contributed to this tradition. Works to be studied include: Toni Morrison's "The Bluest Eye," Nawal el Saadawi's "Woman at Point Zero"; Judy Grahn, "A Descent to the Roses of the Family." We will also read short stories, drama, poetry, letters, political manifestos, and personal narratives. Issues to be discussed include: black women and feminism; women against violence against women; women in labor movements; women's spirituality and mythology; third world women and international feminisms; images of women in media and literature; white women confronting racism; and seeking commonalities across differences of race, ethnicity; ableism; looks; class; life style, and religious background.

Director: Dr. Trudelle Thomas

Our growing understanding of human development shows that important stages of growth occur not just in adolescence but also in early adulthood, midlife, and full maturity. In this workshop we will explore how women and men move through key "passages" in a number of American short stories and films. Do women and men experience life's seasons differently? What changes occur in relation to sexuality, money, family, work, and community? Jungian archetypes and other perspectives on human growth will provide a framework for our discussion of stories by Chopin, Hemingway, Jewett, O'Connor, Faulkner, and others. The workshop will feature:

- guest speakers
- films and videos of short stories
- small group discussions
- short stories

This workshop is designed for people interested in psychological perspectives on literature - whether as independent individuals, students, teachers, or other members of the helping profession.

IMAGES IN FILM: WOMEN & BLACKS IN POPULAR AMERICAN CINEMA

EN 290/490-WS

June 12 to 16
Two Credit Hours
4:00p.m. to 9:00p.m.
Directors: Ms Billi J. Johnson and Mr. Tyrone Williams

Alter 319

Video images - film and television - have become the primary texts informing us about the lives of those marginalized by the American Experience. Young men and women, particularly, are more frequently exposed to video images than any other text about themselves and the world in which they live.

This workshop will examine the image of women and blacks in popular film to determine what these movies say about us and imply about our attitudes.

Films will be discussed as modern literary texts which we can use to help us become more aware of and sensitive to our assumptions about women and blacks in American Society.

Students will see 8 films from the 70's and 80's and discuss the treatment of women and blacks. Guest speakers -professionally involved in the film industry- will discuss the opportunities in the industry to project positive rather than negative, trite, or stereotypical images.

CHURCH RELATED SCHOOLS; THEIR ROLE, MISSION, AND UNIQUE PROBLEMS

ED 601-WS

June 12 to 16
Two Credit Hours
8:00a.m. to 5:00p.m.
Director: Dr. James L. Green

Alter 214

The purpose of this workshop is to identify the special role and mission that church related schools have as they compete with their public school counterparts. Problems unique to private schools, such as admissions and fund raising, will be explored along with possible solutions. Resources for the workshop will include: the instructor, journal articles, guest speakers from local schools, and visits to different types of church related schools. Through these visits in particular, we hope to show that the diverse church school community often shares the same problems, yet there may well be a diversity of answers to them.

Two Credit Hours
9:00a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (MTThF)
9:00a.m. to 9:00p.m. (W)
Director: Dr. William Daily & Ms. Catherine Daily

Alter 318

The mental preparation of athletes and athletic teams is as important, sometimes more important, than the physical preparation for competition. The integration of these two types of preparation is essential for achieving one's maximum potential. Self image can limit and/or enhance performance. The concept of positive mental attitude will be presented, discussed and examined in depth. In addition, the role of music, self hypnosis, visualization, relaxation, self talk, intensity, motivation, modeling, self fulfilling prophesy, behavior modification, individual and team morale, appropriate peaking, believing in self, peer support, and pre-event planning will be discussed.

Communication as it applies especially to the teaching of skills, giving direction, correcting and reinforcing performance will be investigated. Increasing one's comfort zone by using a goal setting process will be encouraged to develop mental action plans for self, athletes, and teams. The role of athletics and one's philosophy of coaching will be addressed along with the role of ethics in coaching adolescents. Emphasis will be placed on applying theory to real life situations.

Guest speakers will present how they have mentally prepared athletes and athletic teams for competition. Participants are encouraged to bring audio and video tapes, articles, poems, signs, slogans, and other motivational material to share with the class.

This experience is intended for elementary and high school coaches as well as those adults who coach young athletes in individual and team sports. Attendance is required at all sessions.

June 12 to 16 & 19 to 23

Alter 321

ED 469-WS

Two Credit Hours
6:00p.m. to 9:30p.m.
Director: Dr. Trudelle Thomas

As our world grows more and more dependent on the printed word, good writing skills become more important for everyone. Whether you are writing a memo or a novel, a letter or an essay, you can benefit by developing certain skills and strategies which are useful for any writing project. This workshop will help participants to overcome writing blocks, to give and receive constructive criticism, to understand own creative processes, and to develop a clear and human style. It is aimed at adults in any field who want to write with greater power, ease, and clarity for work or leisure.

The techniques taught in this workshop can transfer to fiction, poetry, journal entries, non-fiction and other forms of writing. This course will feature prominent local writers as guest speakers, and will also include films, response groups, and private conferences with the director. Because we will use the innovative techniques endorsed by the National Writing Project, this workshop will be especially useful to teachers of Language Arts and English at all levels.

Director: Sr. Monica Foltzer, O.S.U.

Alter 207

This institute offers teachers, principals, counselors, and speech therapists a course in the structure of language. It deals with all of the main sound-symbol relationships, both vowel and consonant. This intensive teaching of a simple and well-organized method of independent word analysis is of singular importance at the K-3 level and in remedial work.

Sister Monica uses her books for the institute. In "Professor Phonics Gives Sound Advice", the student learns on the very first page three consonants and the short sound of a, how to slide these together into words, and to string the words into sentences. The child is reading from the word GO! The 42 sounds of English language are taught in a step-by-step logical procedure.

In "A Sound Track To Reading," the author's second book, the 42 basic sounds are further streamlined. This advanced intensive phonics book is designed for remedial reading in the intermediate, junior and senior high schools. Techniques helpful with both books will be provided. Practical demonstrations with children are part of the institute.

CHILDHOOD PSYCHOPATHOLOGY: IDENTIFICATION, ASSESSMENT AND TREATMENT PROCEDURES

PS 716-WS

June 15 to 17

One Credit Hour

Alter 103

ED 719-WS

9:00a.m. to 4:00p.m. (Th,F)

9:00a.m. to 12:00p.m. (S)

Directors: Dr. W. Michael Nelson, III & Dr. A.J. Finch, Jr.

Many advances have occurred within the area of child and adolescent psychopathology in the past few years. This workshop is designed for professionals and graduate students in psychiatry, psychology, counseling, education, social work, corrections, and other related fields who work with children and adolescents in a therapeutic capacity. While this workshop is developed to present the theoretical basis and recent research in the area of child and adolescent psychopathology, the primary focus will be on developing the practical clinical skills of the participants in working with various behavioral and emotional disorders. Cognitive-behavioral conceptualization of psychological disorders, assessment techniques, and treatment procedures will be explored in depth.

Video-tapes of therapy sessions, role playing, films, small group discussions, and lectures will be utilized to develop the understanding and clinical expertise of the participants. A variety of clinical procedures (self-instructional techniques, stress-inoculation, and pain control strategies) will be presented as methods in dealing with many of the psychological disorders (anger, depression, delinquency, phobias, hyperactivity, learning disabilities, etc.) experienced by children and adolescents.

LIMIT: 40 Participants

ED 492-WS

June 26 to July 7
Three Credit Hours

CBA 1

10:55a.m. to 5:00p.m.
Director: Dr. Paul Simon

In the year following the bicentennial celebration in Cincinnati, it seems appropriate to continue the discussion of local history with a course on the early years of the settlement of the Ohio Valley. This course will cover the years from approximately 1750 to the 1830's. It will discuss such topics as: Indians of the region, early exploration and discovery by whites, the first settlements and a discussion of what frontier life was like (food, clothing, homes, barns, utensils, etc.).

In addition to the lectures, there will be movie and/or slide presentations and field trips (by car and bus) to sites of regional and local interest. Included will be an overnight trip to Chillicothe, Ohio to view Indian Mounds and Adena as well as to attend the outdoor drama, "Tecumseh."

20TH CENTURY RUSSIA FROM THE PERSPECTIVE OF SOVIET & WESTERN FILMMAKERS

HS 474-WS

July 24 to 28
Two Credit Hours

Alter 319

8:45a.m. to 12:30p.m.
1:30p.m. to 4:25p.m.
Director: Dr. Alexandra S. Korros

This workshop will examine some key events in 20th century Russian history through the eyes of Soviet and Western filmmakers. Films will represent interpretations of events such as the 1917 Revolution and the Civil War, the era of the 1920's and the politics of the Stalin era. Students will come away with an understanding of how ideological predispositions color the depiction of events and the choice of subject matter as well as appreciation of the use of fact and fiction in the presentation of Russian history. Films will be preceded by a brief lecture on their historical and interpretive context and will be followed by a class discussion. Each student will submit a paper following the workshop evaluating how film portrays historical events and how choices of subject matter and presentation influence the viewers' attitudes toward the subject.

NATURE EXPLORED: ART & SCIENCE

ED 453-WS

July 24 to 28

Two Credit Hours

Alter 318

8:30a.m. to 4:30p.m.

Director: Mr. Gary G. Gaffney

This course takes nature as a primary resource to investigate connections between art and science/mathematics. Emphasis is placed largely on Greek, Renaissance and contemporary Western cultures.

* Interrelationships are examined in the areas of creative process, the search for understanding and order, beauty, geometry and structure and technology.

* An historical context is provided by focusing on the work of specific artists and scientists.

Course demonstrations and exercises, including drawing, will help generate activities and materials for classroom use.

Course content will be accessible to teachers in both art and science/mathematics with the hope that there will be an exchange of ideas across disciplines.

The course consists of lectures, slides, classroom activities, field trips and discussions. A research project is required. Though the course is geared primarily toward educators, non-educators with an interest in this area will also find the course stimulating and informative.

9:00a.m. to 4:30p.m. (MTThF)

9:00a.m. to 9:00p.m. (W)

Director: Dr. William Daily

Through experiential learning and coordinated inputs the nature of Group Dynamics will be applied to education and other helping professions.

As members of "D" groups (Developmental Groups) consisting of approximately ten heterogeneously selected members, participants will experience structured activities within various learning environments. Debriefing sessions will follow. Special emphasis will be placed on skill development in the area of group communication.

Each participant should gain a deeper insight into her/himself and one's relationships with others as well as gain a deeper understanding of Group Dynamics. Participants will be expected to assume responsibility for their own learning and will be encouraged to establish and implement action steps in their everyday lives. Students must attend all sessions.

Short outside assignments will be required.

GESTALT THERAPY: INTRODUCTION TO THEORETICAL FOUNDATIONS AND THERAPEUTIC TECHNIQUES

PS 615-WS

Ed 602-WS

August 2 to 4

One Credit Hour

Alter 214

9:00a.m. to 4:00p.m. (W,Th)

9:00a.m. to 12:00p.m. (F)

Directors: Dr. W. Michael Nelson, III, & Dr. William Groman

While Gestalt therapy is over three decades old, there was a sharp increase in interest and use of Gestalt methods in psychotherapy in the 1970s until it is now well established both as a major affiliation of psychotherapists and as a style of personal growth. This introductory workshop is designed for professionals and graduate students in psychiatry, psychology, counseling, social work, corrections, education, and other related fields who work with adolescents and adults in a therapeutic capacity.

While the workshop is developed to present the continually developing body of knowledge and philosophy of Gestalt therapy, the primary focus will be on developing the practical clinical skills of the participants who work with various clients. Since the focus of Gestalt therapy is primarily experiential in nature, didactic material will be emphasized and supplemented by demonstrations and discussion.

Another aim of the workshop will be to provide each participant with a group experience in Gestalt therapy coupled with an explanation of how such experiences are generated and can be used for personal growth. Particular emphasis will be on awareness exercises and dreamwork.

UNIVERSITY LIBRARIES INFORMATION

Xavier University does not issue ID cards to summer school students. To check out books during the summer you will need two things:

- 1) A student copy of your registration form for summer courses.
- 2) A picture ID (e.g., driver's license).

Both of these must be presented every time you check out books.

To use Reserve materials you will need:

- 1) A picture ID.
- 2) Your Xavier ID number.

Remember: Books circulate only to currently enrolled summer school students.
